Racing Dates Granted.

The State Racing Commission, all members present except George J. Long of Louisville, met Saturday in Lexington and allotted racing dates as follows:

Lexington, September 19 to 28, nine days.

Louisville, October 1 to 22, nineteen days.

Latonia, October 24 to November 19, twenty-four days.

H. Guy Bedwell, who with his horses stands ruled off, was granted a rehearing, but action on his case was deferred until Wednesday, August 2, when the full commission is expected to be present.

The affidavit of Kiel Williams, a negro groom, to the effect that he had "doped" Nadzu on July 4, at Latonia without Bedwell's knowledge or consent was presented. This affidavit was secured by Detective Seymour Beutler at Sheepshead Bay July 23, and Beutler wrote that Williams had refused to return to Kentucky, fearing possible consequences of his act.

Foresight.

The man who makes money in real estate is the man who can anticipate the needs of the future. Such a person knows that when the L. & N. improvements are completed, firemen and engineers will begin and end their day's work at the new round house. Conductors and brakemen will begin and end their day's work in the new upper yards. These men will want houses near at hand. That is why lots in Highland Place on Sixteenth and Cypress streets will be a good investment.

Found Drown in Pond.

The body of Mr. Ernest A. Hornbrook, 41 years of age, was found in pond on the north side of the Richmond pike, just across the road from the reservoir, in Lexington, Monday morning just before six o'clock.

James Bailey, conductor on the C. & O., found the clothing when he went there fishing early in the morning and the body was soon recovered. Mr. Hornbrook had been in poor health for a long time and recently left the hospital where he had been for five months, having suffered a complete nervous breakdown, besides having been troubled severely with rheumatism.

He is survived by his wife, who was a daughter of Mr. E. T. Moore, Sr., formerly of Paris, one sister, Miss Sallie Hornbrook, of Toronto, Can., two brothers, T. S. Hornbrook, of St. Louis, and L. H. Hornbrook, of Chicago, and one aunt, Miss Sallie E. Adams, of Lexington.

Members of the family found early Monday morning that Mr. Hornbrook had left the house during the night and immediately went in search of him. Within a short time, however, a telephone call stated that the body had been recovered from the pond on the Richmond pike. The indications were that the body had not been long in the water.

Mr. Hornbrook was employed by the Louisville and Nashville railroad for a number of years when quite young, then later went to Jackson, as agent for the L. & N. railroad, thence to the South with the L. & N. again. Afterward he accepted a position with the Paris Milling Co., in this city, and later in 1907 became chief clerk of the L. & N. in Lexington.

Mr. Hornbrook numbered his friends by his acquaintances, was deservedly popular, and his continued ill health had been the cause of much solicitation.

MATRIMONIAL.

The marriage of Miss Jean Harmon McLeod, of Paris, to Mr. Harold Suell, of Lexington, was quietly celebrated at the home of Rev. Mark Collis, in that city, Thursday afternoon. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary McLeod and is one of Bourbon county's most popular young ladies. Mr. Suell is a well-known young business man, being connected with the John Hutchison Grocery Company. Both the bride and groom are favorites in Fayette and Bourbon counties. Their many friends will be surprised to learn of their marriage and will extend congratulations and good wishes for their happiness and prosperity.

Barnett was also he recipient of a handsome pair of shoes, the offer which has been standing since the season opened, for the first home run knocked on the local grounds, which was the gift of Mr. Geo. McWilliams. Both Kaiser and Barnett were presented with a three-dollar hat by the clothing firm of Price & Co., Barnett getting two hats. Mr. Ike L. Finding Cook's Statement Correct.

A press dispatch from Seattle, Wash., says the members of the New York Herald and Portland Oregonian party which attempted the ascent of Mount McKinley, have returned. Their mission failed, C. E. Rusk said, because the party was not sufficiently provisioned.

The Rusk party ascended to a height of 7,500 feet, and on July 12th met the Parker-Brown party, well equipped for the ascent and in good spirits. Mr. Rusk says he believes they will make the top.

"We took the route followed by Dr. Cook on the east side of the mountain to Ruth Glacier. On the route we saw abandoned camps and much of the scenery pictured in Dr. Cook's book. That far Dr. Cook's statements are authentic. Further I would not say, but I do not believe he ascended the mount to the top."

Millers Must Stop Bleaching Flour.

The Government has decided that pending the decision of the higher court in the bleached flour cases, millers must stop bleaching or stand criminal prosecution for each shipment of bleached flour made in interstate commerce.

At a conference between Acting Attorney General Fowler and Secretary McCabe, of the Department of Agriculture, the latter representing Secretary Wilson, it was decided that the inspectors of the Bureau of Chemistry should be instructed to secure samples of bleached flour shipped in interstate commerce by millers and jobbers since the date of the decision of the Kansas City case, with a view of criminal prosecution of those responsible for the shipments.

The Kansas City case was a seizure of certain flour which the Government claimed was adulterated and misbranded because it had been bleached with nitrogen peroxide. After a few weeks trial and exhaustive testimony on both sides, the verdict in the case sustained the contention of the Government, and the bleachers have appealed the case to the Court of Appeals. The Government holds that, inasmuch as a jury had decided that bleached flour was adulterated, during the pendency of the appeal and until determination is made by a higher court, bleached flour must not be sent in interstate commerce.

Puts Inspection Into Operation

Letters are being sent out to all State banks in Kentucky by Dr. Ben L. Bruner, Secretary of State, together with contracts, explaining the method of bank inspection by the State which has been determined upon by Secretary Bruner, who is also bank superintendent.

The contract provides that each bank will pay its proper fees for the examination, and in turn will secure the protection the bank inspection affords. No bank is required to sign the contract, it being entirely voluntary on their part, but it is expected by Secretary Bruner that every bank and trust company working under State laws will agree to the inspection.

He has already received notice of the approval of his plan of bank inspection by most of the state banks. The letter which goes to the banks, explains the plan of inspection.

Kentucky Jurist Passes Away.

Judge Micah Crisman Saufley, one of the best known men in Kentucky, died suddenly at his home in Stanford Friday morning of heart failure.

He was found dead in his barn, where he had gone to feed the chickens. Although Judge Saufley had not been feeling well recently he was not thought to be in a serious condition and his death came as a great shock.

Judge Saufley was one of the most prominent men in public life in Kentucky and it is probable that he would have been one of the leading candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor at the next election had not the death of his son about a year ago proved such a severe blow to him that he decided to withdraw from politics.

He was sixty-eight years old and a native of Wayne county. During the Civil War he was a lieutenant in General Morgan's command, and was in prison for some time on Johnson's island. In 1870 he removed to Lincoln county, where he has resided ever since.

In 1888 President Cleveland appointed Judge Saufley to the Supreme Court of the Territory of Wyoming, and while serving in this position the distinguished Kentuckian made a reputation for himself for absolute fearlessness when he defied the rioters in that section. He served on the bench in Wyoming until the territory became a State, and then returned to Kentucky, where he was elected Circuit Judge. He was defeated in 1904 by Judge Cantrill for the Democratic nomination for the Appellate bench, and later was defeated by the late Judge Con Bell for the Circuit Judgeship of this district. At the last election, however, he was elected Circuit Judge by the largest majority ever given a judge in his district.

Judge Saufley although an uncompromising Democrat, was known as a strictly impartial judge and his decisions were never in the least affected by political feeling. He was noted as a stump speaker.

He is survived by his wife and six children as follows: Mrs. T. S. Webb, Jr. of Knoxville; Mrs. F. M. Logan, of Wilmore; Mrs. George Penny and Rowan Saufley of Stanford; James M. Saufley of Tennessee, and Midshipman Caswell Saufley, of the battleship Kansas.

Wise Mule.

There have been trick mules and more trick mules, but when it comes to the genuine article a long-eared specimen owned by Councilman George Koehnline, of Bridgeport, Ohio, has them all backed off the boards. The particular stunt of the animal which is creating so much interest is his ability to dislocate his right front leg at the knee-joint whenever there is a large day's work ahead. A few days ago the owner had arranged to do some heavy hauling. The mule suddenly "went" lame, and had to be unhitched and assisted to the stable. A veterinary was summoned and he found that the right front leg was dislocated at the knee. It was with great difficulty that the bone was restored to its proper place. The next day the mule seemed to be as good as new and was taken out for work, when the leg again became unhitched. The veterinary was summoned and the leg was again adjusted. The mule was given another day's rest, and the leg went wrong the third day. Mr. Koehnline decided that he would not summon the mule doctor for a while and the "Hee-Haw" was taken to the stable. Being suspicious that the mule was working a bluff game, the owner crept himself in the stable where he could watch the mule. In about an hour the mule decided that all was well and arose to its feet. The dislocated front leg was given a swing outward and the bones came together with a crack. The mule then began eating hay as though nothing had happened.

Fund Not Used.

There is one fund in the State Treasury that will not be overdrawn for a while. The automobile tax is by law to be placed in the Good Roads Fund. Just exactly what this is, or how it is to be used, nobody knows. The legislature, which created the fund said nothing as to how it shall be distributed or for what purpose. As it is, the fund will accumulate until a future legislature provides how it shall be spent.

Confederate Women Secure Concession.

The Robert Patton Chapter, of Cincinnati, United Daughters of the Confederacy, have secured a restaurant concession at the Ohio Valley Exposition, to be held in Cincinnati from August 29 to September 24, and is sending invitations to its friends in the South to make this section their headquarters during their visits to the Exposition. Southern luncheons will be served, the object of the work to provide funds for the erection of a military wall for the Johnson's Island Confederate-Masonic Cemetery, where the Chapter unveiled a bronze statue on June 8, of the present year.

Lebanon Carried by "Wets."

At the local option election held in Lebanon Thursday, voters, after three years of "dry" rule and a-called prohibition reversed the former verdict and favored open saloons under high license and strict regulation. The majority was thirteen for the "wets." The local optionists carried the city by sixty-three votes at the previous election.

There is some talk of a contest on the part of the "dry" forces who it is alleged, claim the call for the election was not legal. The election passed off without any disorder. The local optionists made a spirited campaign, among the speakers being Appellate Judge E. C. O'Rear. The campaign, however, did not approach in bitterness the one conducted three years ago, when the "drys" won and the "wets" abdicated the result without a contest.

Not Sisters

Now and again you see two women passing down the street who look like sisters. You are astonished to learn that they are mother and daughter, and you realize that a woman at forty or forty-five ought to be at her finest and fairest. Why isn't it so? The general health of woman is so intimately associated with the local health of the essentially feminine organs that there can be no red cheeks and round form where there is female weakness.

Women who have suffered from this trouble have found prompt relief and cure in the use of Dr.

Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It gives vigor and vitality to the organs of womanhood. It clears the complexion, brightens the eyes and reddens the cheeks.

No alcohol, or habit-forming drugs is contained in "Favorite Prescription." Any sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. Every letter is held as sacredly confidential, and answered in a plain envelope. Address: World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

No Perfect Physical Man.

Is there a perfect physical man? The average fellow who goes to an oculist finds that one eye is bad or his nose is lopsided; the tailor tells him one shoulder is lower than the other; the shoemaker says his feet are not mates. For Perfect Health.

In order to support life and growth and to maintain the strength and efficiency of the human body, some things are absolutely necessary. Among these, named perhaps in order of importance, are: Pure air, wholesome nutritious food, unbroken sleep and some form of muscular exercise.

CITIES WILL REAP OF THE NEW

No Divided Displays Necessary to Get Products Into the Great Ohio Valley Exposition To Be Held at Cincinnati.

The general impression that the industrial portions of all expositions are alike will be put to rout by the management of the Ohio Valley Exposition next fall, when several new departures in the line of displays will be offered visitors in a way to add greatly to the general attractiveness and commercial value of the project.

Ever since expositions were inaugurated it has been the custom to segregate various industries, placing certain lines of manufactured articles in one department, thereby creating a continuous display of shoes, or dry goods, or stoves, or furniture, as the case might be. In this way no city received the credit due it for its industries, and no industry received the individual attention to which it was entitled because of its being thrown in with many similar specimens in one grand display.

When detailed plans for conducting the Ohio Valley Exposition were being worked out, it was suggested that better and more satisfactory results could be obtained, especially for the industries of the smaller cities of the Ohio Valley, if each city were allowed to display examples of all her products under one roof. In this way, it was argued, the products of a city like Portsmouth or Springfield, for instance, would not be scattered through five or six buildings, but would be exhibited in one collective display, giving the city the prominence it deserved and at the same time giving distinction to each industry represented.

This idea has been carried out in the mammoth "Municipal Building," located on the canal, and extending from the elbow at the head of Plum eral Davison of the Exposition. "Their contributions to the Exposition would be scattered all over the display space, with the result that neither the city nor the firm represented received full credit for its display. In order to obviate this handicap and bring all exhibitors in on an equal footing, whether they have much or little to display, this plan of creating collective municipal exhibits was evolved, and a special building designed for these exhibits.

"So great has been the demand for space in this building to date that the prospects are that we will be compelled to enlarge the present building or erect another structure for the accommodation of the Ohio Valley cities and their industries."

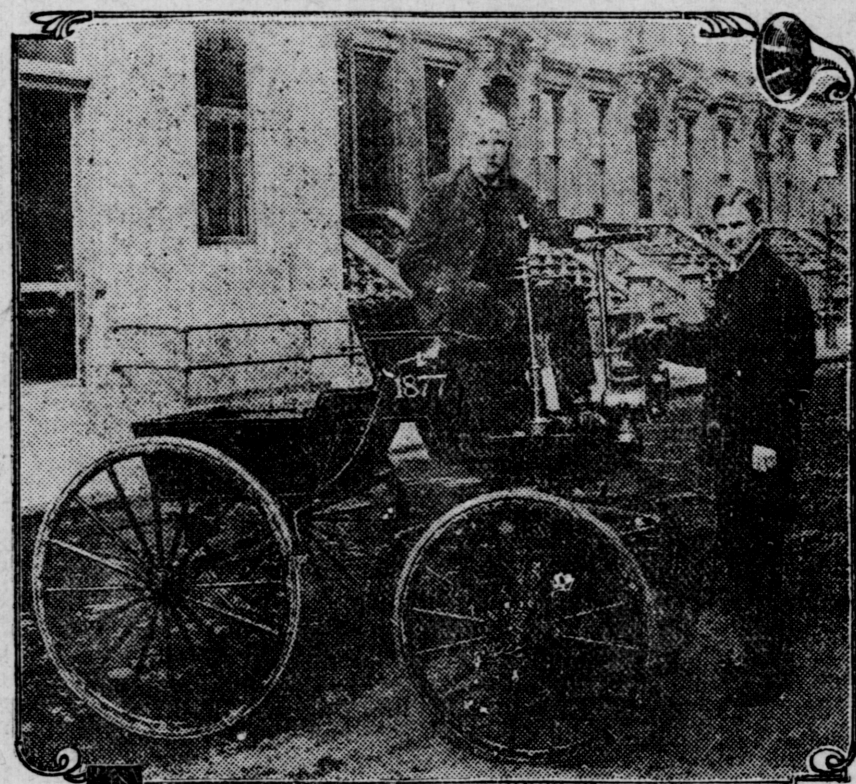

NINE-FOOT STAGE BOOMS BUSINESS

Packet Companies Add Boats to Ohio River Lines.

Cincinnati, O. (Special).—Although the greater portion of the improvements in the Ohio river authorized by congress for the creation of a nine-foot stage of water the year round has not yet been begun, the anticipated benefits of this tremendous undertaking, calling for an outlay of approximately $60,000,000, are already being taken advantage of.

The Louisville and Cincinnati Packet Company, which operates a

FIRST GASOLINE AUTOMOBILE

This car, built in 1877 by George Selden, and forming the basis for all patents on gasoline automobiles now being constructed, was invented by George Selden, who is seated in the car, and who still is manufacturing machines. The original Selden car will be exhibited at the Ohio Valley Exposition at Cincinnati, Aug. 29 to Sept. 24.

street almost to the Twelfth street bridge. In this roomy structure will be located the assembled exhibits of a majority of the cities of the Ohio Valley. Here Portsmouth, O., will display her knitting mills, shoe factories, brick machinery, nonexplosive gas range and other commodities manufactured in that city. Here Owensboro, Ky., will show the "shovel without a backache," with which the Panama canal is being dug, and the "whisky without a headache," as well as products of her tobacco fields and orchards. Indianapolis will bring over examples of some ten or twelve of her manufactured products, all assembled under the Indianapolis banner, while Springfield, O., Louisville, Ky., Wheeling, Pittsburg, Evansville, Cairo, Paducah and other cities on the broad Ohio from Pittsburg to Cairo, will follow this lead. The result will be a collection of municipal exhibits, displayed under city flags, the like of which has never before graced and distinguished an industrial exposition.

It has been promised, too, that many of these municipal exhibits will be further enhanced by having among their features working displays, such as knitting mills; shoe-lace manufacturing machinery in operation; cooking stoves utilized for baking; brick-making machinery; gas engines; electric lighting generators; worsted mills looms, and a number of others, thereby showing not only the finished products, but also how they are made.

"I have found heretofore in handling expositions that the exhibitors of the smaller cities never had a fair show," remarked Commissioner Gen-line of boats between Cincinnati and Louisville, and also has subsidiary lines, has added to the scope of its operations by purchasing two additional boats, which will be placed in service between Louisville and Evansville, thereby giving continuous daily service under one management from Cincinnati and way points to Evansville. The officials of the company are free in saying that this amplification of their operations is due directly to the anticipated revival and the greatly increased volume of river traffic which is certain to result from the improvements now being made and authorized.

Another earnest of this anticipated boom in river traffic is found in the diligence which various Ohio river communities are showing in the Ohio Valley Exposition, which will be held in Cincinnati from August 29 to September 24, and which is designed principally to exploit the industries and products of the Ohio Valley and the South. Portsmouth, O., for instance, has secured 2,000 square feet of exhibition space at the Exposition for the display of her industries.

Speaking of the benefits of a perpetual navigable stage of the Ohio, Hon. Albert Bettinger, vice president of the Ohio River Improvement Association, said: "With uninterrupted navigation the year round, the Ohio Valley, from Pittsburg to Cairo, eventually will resolve itself into one continuous line of factories. When these improvements are completed and the Panama canal opened, the manufacturers of the Ohio Valley will be able to compete with foreign nations for the business of any section of the world."

BASE BALL.

FRIDAY.

Pais made it three straight from the Millers when they won Friday afternoon by a score of 6 to 3. The game was snappy from the start, but the visitors performed a few queer stunts that helped the Bourbonites considerably. Poole and Harrell both pitched excellent ball, each allowing only five hits.

The locals opened up in the fourth with two runs. Kuhlman was safe on a grounder to Badger. McKernan waited and walked and on Kaiser's clean drive to left took second. Goodman fled to second. Scott, the next up, sent a high fly back of second, around which Giesler, Miller and Stengel all gathered. The ball fell safe and before it could be relayed to the plate both McKernan and Kaiser had scored.

Paris cinched the game in the fifth. Chapman died on a grounder to Badger. Holder sent a fly to the same territory, which Badger muffed and the runner was safe, but died at second on a steal. To the delight of the fans Poole smacked the sphere for a clean drive to center. Kuhlman walked, Poole taking second. McKernan caught one on the nose for two bases, Poole scoring and Kuhlman taking third. The ever ready Kaiser planted one safely in center scoring both men. Kaiser stole second where he died on Goodman's fly to Stengel.

The locals added another in the sixth. Scott reached first on a wild throw of his grounder by Badger sent to second. Barnett lined one to third. Scott taking an extra base and scored a moment later on Holder's grounder to Kuhn.

Shelbyville saved themselves a shut-out in the seventh. Miller singled to left and scored on Kuhn's corking drive to deep right for three bases. Long beat out a grounder to third and on Holder's throw to catch him at second, Kuhn trotted home.

Poole led the visitors safe till the ninth when they succeeded in sending another run over the plate. Scott fumbled Stengel's grounder, who went to second on Kuhn's single to right. The latter was forced at second on Long's grounder to Scott. Stengel taking third. The latter crossed the plate on Schultz's grounder to Scott. Stengel taking third. The latter crossed the plate on Schultz's grounder to Kuhlman. Harrell ended the struggle by going out on a fly to Kuhlman. Score:

SATURDAY.

Cornell, the big league aspirant, went down in defeat Saturday afternoon in a game marked by the heavy hitting of the locals and in which the Lawmakers were overcome by a score of 8 to 1.

A big crowd was present to see the clash between the star twirler of the Frankfort aggregation and Winchell. The game was the fastest ever played on the local grounds, requiring only one hour and twenty-eight minutes.

Of the two hurlers Winchell proved the better and held the Lawmakers to five safe drives, two of which came in the eighth session.

The work of Kaiser was sensational. He secured a single, double and triple, scored two runs and made two catches in the outfield that were exceedingly hard chances.

Neither side was able to get a man around all four stations until the third when Holder, the first man up, lifted a high one over Swartz's head in left which he muffed, the runner taking second. Winchell fanned. Kuhlman sent a grounder to Hoffman, which the latter threw wild to first, Holder scoring and the runner taking second. McKernan walked and Kaiser slammed the sphere against the center field fence, bringing Kuhlman and McKernan home. Kaiser tried to stretch the hit for three bases and was caught between second and third. Goodman followed with a single to right, but died on a quick relay of the ball.

Paris added two runs in the sixth. Kaiser, the first up, drove the ball against the fence and took three bases, and scored on Goodman's single to right. The latter reached second on Scott's sacrifice and then pilfered third. On the throw which went wild he trotted over the rubber. Barnett and Chapman were easy outs, the former on a grounder to Hoffman and the latter on a fly to Beard.

In the eighth Kaiser opened with a hot grounder that rolled to center field. He took second on Goodman's sacrifice and went to third when Scott grounded to Harrell. Barnett followed with a safe drive to left scoring Kaiser. Chapman grounded to Seebach and when the latter tried to throw the ball over the fence Barnett took third and Chapman perched on second. Holder followed with a stinging drive to right, scoring both men. Winchell hit to center, Holder taking second. Kuhlman fled to left much to the relief of the visitors.

The Senators got their only tally in the same session. Angemeier hit for two bases. Swartz fled to Kuhlman. Beard beat out a grounder to Scott. Angemeier taking third, and scored on Seebach's single to right. Winchell took no chances and retired the Senators in the ninth in order. Score:

SUNDAY.

The Millers and Bourbonites met Sunday afternoon in a double contest and the locals came out two games nearer the pennant, winning the first by a score of 7 to 4 and the second 9 to 4.

Both contests proved to be slugfests. By agreement both games went only for seven innings each but during the fourteen innings the locals pounded three pitchers for twenty-six hits and a total of forty bases. Barnett caught the pellet on the forehead when it hit the ground far over the heads of Fieber and Stengel bounded over the fence for home runs, the first made at White Park this season. Not to be outdone the heavy hitting Kaiser slammed the sphere to the left field fence at the farthest angle and as he headed for third saw Fieber scrambling in the grass for the ball, slid over the plate feet foremost.

Three Shelbyville pitchers were used up. Williams, the new twirler taken into the Bourbonite camp Saturday took the mound against his former associates in the first game and his work up to the sixth was something phenomenal. He retired the visitors in each session in quick order, and in only one inning did as many as four men face him.

When Shelbyville came to the bat in the sixth they had failed to get a hit and after two men were down, Williams attempted to stop a high bounding grounder from Badger's bat and split his finger.

The plucky twirler continued, but it was evident that the injury was of such character as to cause him to lose control and when the third out was made the visitors had secured two singles and two two-baggers, netting four runs. The speedy Schenberg took up the work and held the Millers safe to the end of the contest and twirled the Bourbonites to victory in the second contest. Score:

Remains of C. W. Turner Laid to Rest.

The remains of Carroll Wood Turner, who met a tragic death in Hot Springs, Ark., a few days ago, were laid to rest in Paris cemetery Monday afternoon. The body arrived in this city Sunday afternoon and was met at the depot by an escort by the Paris Lodge of Elks, Masons and Eagles and was taken to the residence of Mrs. Kittie Owens, on South Main street.

The funeral services took place at the grave in the Paris cemetery yesterday afternoon at four o'clock. The services were conducted by the Masons. The pall-bearers were Amos Turner, Jr., A. F. Frendburg, Wm. Taylor, Harry Collins, John F. Davis and H. L. Terrell.

STORY OF TRAGEDY.

The Hot Springs Ark. Sentinel-Record of August 12, contains the following account of the tragedy:

"C. W. Turner, a visitor from Paris, Ky., who had just returned from accompanying Mrs. J. R. Purnell to a moving picture show in the downtown district, was shot and almost instantly killed at 10:30 o'clock last night by Jack R. Purnell, husband of the woman.

"The tragedy was enacted in the rear of the cottage occupied by the Purnells on Market street. The couple were returning via the rear entrance in the hope that they would not be apprehended together. It was very dark at the point where the shooting took place.

"Turner and Mrs. Purnell were quietly coming in when Purnell stepped from the deep weeds near them and addressed Turner:

"I have warned you against going with my wife, is what he is reputed to have said, and about this time pulled a Colt's 38-calibre pistol. As he started to fire it is likely that Turner wheeled, for he received the three bullets, which penetrated his body, all in the back.

"Mrs. Purnell was frightened because she expected to be killed also, and ran into the house. Purnell turned after his victim had fallen under the rain of bullets, and telephoned to Lieut. Willey, of the police force, saying he had killed a man.

"He was told to come on to the police station, and a few minutes later walked in, throwing down his empty pistol on the counter, and saying to Jailer Sigman:

"I have killed a man lock me up."

"The tragedy was enacted just as Coroner Dr. J. P. Randolph, was returning from an inquest in South Hot Springs. The rumors of the first tragedy had reached the downtown district, and a large crowd gathered at the second.

"Mrs. Purnell made a statement of the affair:

"My husband has been going out with women," she said, "and I had told him that if he did not stop going with women I would go with men. A few nights ago Mr. Turner and myself went out and stayed until about 12 o'clock. We did not get caught that time.

"Tonight we had an engagement to go to the picture show. I feared that we might be watched, so we went out through the rear of the house and around the block.

"Returning we came through the back of the premises again, and just before we were to enter the house my husband came out of the dark weeds and spoke to Turner.

"He said something about having warned Turner about going with me, but never knew of that, or that they would have trouble or I would not have gone with him. Turner should have told me about being warned."

"Mrs. Purnell was asked what Purnell did after shooting Turner.

"I could not tell very well," she said, "except that he walked away. I was afraid and ran. I believe that he would have killed me also if he had not have been forced to keep shooting at Turner."

"Turner was not armed having no weapons on or about him. Mrs. Purnell stated that she did not know of his being armed, and believed he was not.

"Purnell reported to the police earlier in the night that he had been having trouble with his wife, and that he knew her to be out with another man. He told the police he was afraid of her. He also said something about her having sent for two brothers to come here and expected to have trouble with them.

"Lieut. Willey spoke to two members of the force to keep a lookout for Mrs. Purnell and the man she was with, and report if they found her, but this was early in the evening, and when the news of the assassination in South Hot Springs reached them they hurried out on that important mission.

In the jail Purnell was visited by his father and Attorney R. E. L. Maxey. He stated that he did not care to make a statement for the public. This was probably on the advice of his counsel.

"Turner was a young man, about 35 years of age, dressed very nearly in dark clothing, and was apparently of good standing in social and business circles at his home.

"He was shot one time in the back just over the kidney at the left of his body, and thrice glanced upward from the back of his neck about the collar line until it broke his neck, where it entered, and a third penetrated the head at the base of the brain from the back, probably while the body was in a stooping position. The latter two shots may have been fired while the body was falling.

"From papers on Turner's body it was found that he was in good standing in the Masonic lodge of Paris, Ky."

and that he wore a chapter charm. He is also said to have been a member of the Eagles.

"Mrs. Purnell admitted that she knew Turner very well and that he had been here once before on a visit. She did not speak of intimacy between them, rather indicating that she had merely gone with Turner because Mr. Purnell was in the habit of going out with women, and that she had determined to go out with men if he persisted in going out with women.

"She was very much alarmed for fear that Purnell would return and kill her. While telling her story of the tragedy and while in a position to observe the outskirts of the crowd, she saw a newcomer join the throng.

"That walks like him now," she said, and seemed to shrink back in the house for fear that he would return and kill her. The body of the slain man lay face upwards in the grass where the shooting took place until ordered removed to the undertaking shop of H. Gross. City Detective Bloom had made such investigation as seemed to cover the whole of the situation. It was apparent that there would be no denial as to who did the killing, nor as to the detail of how it took place. Purnell had already made his confession to the police, and Mrs. Purnell had also told Blom her side of the affair. She was the only other witness of the affair besides Purnell.

"Coroner Randolph made an inspection of the body and the circumstances surrounding the killing and ordered the body removed and held until noon today when an inquest will be held at the Gross undertaking rooms.

"There were a number of stories rife as to the relations between Mr. and Mrs. Purnell. Some were to the effect that Mrs. Purnell was about to leave the city, and that the sale of some of their property had been almost negotiated to this end.

"Purnell called several of his friends into his confidence yesterday and told them of the impending trouble between himself and wife, and as a last resort called in the police to help him find the couple after he discovered they had slipped out and were spending the evening together.

"Purnell has been here for several years. He was at first engaged as a runner for hotels, and later opened the Star barbershop, located near the Morris Drug Company, which is one of the most popular and successful in the city.

Turner was not well known about the premises, but was very popular for his brief acquaintance. At the cottage it was said he was very pleasant and accepted to be a fine young gentleman. He had visited the city before, but probably few of those who spoke of him last night had known him on the former visit. On the first visit he stopped with the Purnells at the same quarters.

"Mrs. Purnell is a tall woman, wears glasses, appears older than Turner, and is not prepossessing in appearance. She talked of the matter last night very lightly except when she reflected on threats she said Purnell had made against her life, when she seemed to take the situation more seriously as if she anticipated that she would be the next victim of her husband's pistol."

Of the Coroner's inquest the Sentinel-Record of August 13 said:

"With the lips of the wife sealed as to the matter of testifying in a case wherein her husband is the accused, there was not the full development of detail yesterday before the Coroner's inquest into the killing of Carroll Wood Turner by Jack Purnell that might have been had the law permitted her to talk, but there was sufficient evidence added for the jury to return a verdict which holds Purnell without bond for the next grand jury, under a charge of first degree murder.

"W. A. Baird, who stops at the Rockafellow Hotel, and Mr. Hutchings, who stops at the Wanesha, will take charge of the remains of Turner and have them shipped to his home in Paris, Ky. The former will represent the Elks, and the latter the Masonic fraternity. Both of these local lodges have rendered whatever assistance they could in this matter. Turner is said to be in good standing not only in these fraternal organizations, but in the mail clerks union, and in social affairs in Kentucky."

Engineer Killed in Wreck.

In a head-on collision between two freight trains near Covington Friday evening Engineer McCarthy, of the northbound freight, was instantly killed and several of the train crew were slightly injured. Three of the cars caught fire and for a time both trains were threatened with destruction. The wreck was caused by a misunderstanding of orders.

The wreck occurred on the main line of the Louisville & Nashville railroad and blocked all traffic between Cincinnati and Louisville for more than six hours, the time required to clear away the wreckage.

The dead engineer was 35 years old and lived in Covington.

Sample Helps Frail Women

So many women are dragging out weary lives just because their digestive organs are weak. The result is poor circulation, nervousness and the verge of invalidism. It is often very unnecessary and the woman's own fault.

The first thing to do is to look to the welfare of your bowels. There the trouble usually lies. All physicians know that a large percentage of women are habitually constipated, and from this results indigestion, piles, weariness, etc., that women constantly complain of. But there is no use taking "female remedies" and things of that kind until you have started your bowels to moving. You will find that when the bowels move regularly once or twice a day all your petty ills will disappear. Take a good, mild laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for awhile and you will find yourself rapidly getting better and stronger, your bowels will regulate themselves and work at stated times, and then your headaches and dizziness will disappear. Don't take strong cathartic pills or salts, but just such a mild and pleasant-tasting remedy as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

You can obtain a bottle of your drug for fifty cents or one dollar, and either size may be enough to permanently cure you. Thousands of women keep it regularly in the house and will no longer be without it, as it cures them and can be used with safety by every member of the family, down to the youngest child, but if you have never used it take the advice of Mrs. Earl S. Cox, 409 Twenty-fifth street, Moline, Ill., and Mrs. Ellen Dungan, Muncie, Ind., and send to Dr. Caldwell for a free trial bottle, as they did and learn for yourself what it will do in your own case. That it will cure you, as it did them, there is no doubt.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell, 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Personal Attention Required.

Saved From Awful Peril.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, Ohio, R. R. No. 3, "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 115 pounds in spite of many remedies and the best doctors. And that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 160 pounds and can work hard. It also cured my four children of croup." Infalible for coughs and colds, its the most certain remedy for lagrippe, asthma, desperate lung trouble and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer's.

President Helps Orphans.

Hundreds of orphans have been helped by the president of the Industrial and Orphans' Home at Macon, Ga., who writes: "We have used Electric Bitters in this institution for years. It has proved a most efficient medicine for stomach, liver and kidney troubles. We regard it as one of the best family medicines on earth." It invigorates all vital organs, purifies the blood, aids digestion, creates appetite. To strengthen and build up pale, thin, weak children or rundown people it has no equal. Best for female complaints. Only 50c, at Oberdorfer's.

Worthy of All Honor.

Honest toil is holy service; faithful work is praise and prayer.—Henry Van Dyke, "Tolling of Felix."

Took All His Money.

Often all a man earns goes to doctors or for medicine to cure a stomach, liver or kidney trouble that Dr. King's New Life Pills would quickly cure at slight cost. Best for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, jaundice, malaria and debility. 2c, at Oberdorfer's.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. J. By EDGAR FALES MOODY

When the civil war came on two classes of men in the north went out to fight. The one were actuated by patriotism, the other by what they expected to make out of the matter. But the war, instead of lasting but a few months, as many at first expected, furnishing military titles and big pay for this last named class, proved a gigantic, bloody struggle, and with each fight the army was in need of these so called soldiers.

Colonel Jim C. in 1862 commanded the brigade in which I served. The colonel had been a politician in a large city and was one of the first to "offer himself a sacrifice to the Union," his idea of that sacrifice being that he would start out with rank of colonel and return with that of general, picking up sundry "perquisites" by the way, then run for a fat office. He was a fine looking man and prided himself on being a lady killer.

No sooner were the troops grouped into brigades and divisions than Colonel Jim by virtue of the date of his commission was placed in command of a brigade. As soon as this elevation took place he looked about him for a staff. Being allowed two aids, he chose Louis Richmond and me, both second lieutenants. Richmond told me that he didn't like the colonel and was intending to ask to be returned to his regiment. But no sooner had he told me this than on receipt of a letter from the north he said that he would remain on the staff. I asked him why he had so suddenly changed his views, but he shut up like an oyster and refused to utter a word in explanation.

It was not long after this that one morning at the breakfast table the colonel's brow was very lowering. "Gentlemen," he said, "there's a thief on my staff. Last night while I was at Colonel B's headquarters"—he had been playing poker—"my trunk was rifled of a package of papers." As he spoke he looked at all our faces to note the effect of his words. I noticed that Richmond was the only one of the staff whose looks indicated consciousness.

"Might not the thief be one of the headquarters guard or an orderly?" suggested the commissary.

"No," replied the colonel; "the robbery was not committed for gain. There was money in the trunk, and it was not taken. Some one on my staff took the papers for a purpose. If I can prove it on him I'll have him court martialed."

The colonel's eyes were fixed intently on Richmond as he spoke. But Richmond went on eating his breakfast with a fair amount of equanimity considering that he was virtually accused of being a thief. Nevertheless during the day he made application to Colonel Jim to be returned to his regiment.

Now, the relations between a general and his personal staff are of a peculiarly intimate and confidential character. The general may nominate his own staff, and the nomination is considered an honor. But he is not likely to retain an officer who prefers not to hold the position given him. What was our surprise to learn from Louis Richmond that the colonel declined to issue the order returning him to his regiment. Evidently the commander believed that his aid had stolen his papers and proposed to force him to stay where he was until he could recover them.

Since Richmond made no denial of being guilty of the colonel's charge we treated him with coolness and finally refused to speak to him except officially. Though the young man winced under this, he seemed to be sustained by a consciousness of innocence. Meanwhile there were conditions between him and the colonel that we could not understand. Neither took any definite stand. The colonel did not prefer charges, and Richmond made no move to force the colonel to permit him to join his regiment, which seemed to be the only way to get rid of a very unpleasant situation. I noticed that Colonel Jim made no mention of the character of the purloined papers, and his aid made no effort to free himself from the obloquy that rested upon him.

Such were the conditions when we entered our first fight. The colonel did not show up at the head of his brigade, and Richmond, who appeared to be best fitted to take his place, issued orders in his stead. When the fight was over the colonel appeared, explaining his absence on the ground that he had got separated from his command when the fight opened and could not afterward find it.

But the division commander did not accept this excuse and called for Colonel Jim's resignation. It was handed in, and the political general disappeared from the service.

Colonel Jim's relegation to ward politics relegated Richmond and myself to our respective regiments. Soon after the fight he asked me to come to his quarters. There he made an explanation of the conditions existing between him and his commander. A lady had written him that the colonel had a number of letters from her which she was desirous should be returned. The colonel had declined to give them up. She asked Richmond to get them for her by hook or by crook. He had booked them.

Of course Richmond received his reward. It was the lady herself.

WALTER A. WOOD MOWERS

Are Different From All Others

When the late Walter A. Wood built his first mower in 1882 it was upon a principle entirely different from any other. That same principle today distinguishes our mowers from all others. It is the "floating frame" described so fully in our catalog. All manufacturers of mowers admit that the "direct under-draft" principle is the correct one—but they can't use it because genuine under-draft is possible only with the "floating frame" construction which is exclusive to Walter A. Wood Mowers. We feel justified in asserting that our mowers are: the easiest running; lightest draft; handiest to operate; least expensive to keep in repair and longest lived. The mower that leads on these points is the mower it will pay the farmer to buy. There are many other good points fully illustrated and described in our Catalog. Write for it today.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES.

The grader for the Burley tobacco pool at Lexington says the pooled crop of 1909 will dry out one hundred million pounds, forty thousand hogsheads of which will be ready for inspection and for the public auction
August 16. Last year fifty-four million pounds of the 1908 crop brought fifteen cents and sixty-five million pounds brought seventeen cents.

Total receipts of live stock on the Chicago market for week of August 8, were 50,300 cattle, 9,900 hogs and 97,100 sheep. The week's receipts compared with the previous week in round numbers decreased 19,400 cattle, 22,800 hogs and 18,000 sheep. Compared with corresponding week last year cattle increased 8,200, hogs 22,900
and sheep 19,500.

The great stake of $1,000 at the Blue Grass Fair was hotly contested.
Of course many were scratched when it was apparent the probable entries
would be the highest class of saddle horses. Seven faced the three judges, who were Bales Wilson and Buckner.
The contestants were finally brought to four and they were placed as follows: Glen B. Butler, first; Kentucky Choice, second; Nazimova, third, and Bourbon Prince fourth. Emerald Belle, Brude of the Mistletoe and Collier, were the other entries. It was a memorable event and said to be the feature of the fair.

Danville Advocate—"Andersod & Spilman, the Danville millers, have bought nearly 85,000 bushels of wheat this year, for most of which they paid 95 cents a bushel. A great percentage of the wheat of this county was damaged by the long spell of wet weather, and some of that delivered at the warehouse of Anderson & Spilman was in bad shape. Nearly 65,000 bushels have been delivered.
..... Sheriff B. G. Fox will attend
court at Lawrenceburg Monday,
where he intends to purchase a number of mule colts. He has purchased, up to date, about 100, most of which were secured in Lincoln county. He will buy up two cars and ship them
to Pennsylvania."

Waldo, last year' champion two year-old thoroughbred, and this year's disappointment because of his inability to run in the various stake races of the East has been retired for the season as a result of a bowed tendon
and will be brought to Fayette county within the next week to rest up for next season.

Waldo's owner, C. L. Harrison, of New York, winters all his horses at the Dammy farm in Fayette under the care of Gus Eastin. He intends letting Waldo rest thoroughly with a view of taking him up next season and winning many of the big races of the year with him. However, there are many turfmen who do not believe the great horse will ever race again. Waldo, from the time he was injured by a gravel in training for the Kentucky Derby, had been almost constantly under the care of a veterinarian, and it is considered doubtful that he will be able to run again. His owner and his trainer, however, think he will be able to "come back" next year and make a "clean sweep."

Overruled Demurrer.

In the Franklin County Court County Judge R. C. Hieatt overruled the special demurrer of the Kentucky Distillers and Warehouse Company in the suit of State Revenue Agent Hunt-man against the company to collect alleged back taxes on storage accounts.
The case will be appealed to the Circuit Court for trial.

Famous Lost Cemetery Located.

What is believed to be a famous lost cemetery of the War of 1812 has been discovered along the north bank of the River Raisin, just East of Monroe, Mich. by the contractors engaged in excavating for the mill of the River Raisin Paper Company. As the work of excavating progresses piles of human bones are uncovered.

Evidently they are from bodies that had been buried in one large cave.
Then will come a skeleton of some white man, while a few feet away the remains of an Indian will be uncovered. A body, evidently that of a soldier, was uncovered, the skull cleft as if a tomahawk had pierced the brain. A brass letter "C" was with the bones,
showing that the wearer was a member of C company. A short distance away the skeleton of an Indian squaw
was uncovered.

This locality in the war of 1812 was the scene of the battle of the River
Raisin, in which 4,000 American troops, mostly Kentuckians, were surprised by English and Indians and massacred.
The bodies were left where they had fallen and were buried several months
later by the old settlers in one grave.
The interment of the bones was first gotten and those who buried them passed away so that none of the present generation knew the location of the lost cemetery.

Doubling Her Capacity.

"I want a nurse girl who is capable of taking care of twins," said a woman to the manager of an employment agency.

A dozen maids ranged against the wall were questioned as to their familarity with twins. Finally one girl produced documentary evidence that for the last five years most of her waking moments had been spent in the company of twins. She got the job. When she reported for work in the afternoon she was introduced to but one infant.

"Where is the other one?" she asked.
"Oh, there are no twins about this house," said her mistress. "I just said twins so I would be sure to get a competent nurse. Any girl who is capable of handling two children can give extra good care to one. That is a little ruse I always employ when I hire a nurse."—New York Times.

The Wolves and the Meat.

"I had thought that it was peculiar to human nature to regard that which one has as of less value than that which one has not, but I had reason to change my opinion the other day,"
said a visitor to the zoo.

"A keeper tossed four pieces of meat into the den of two gray wolves. One piece landed on the roof of the shelter
house, and a wolf with a lame fore leg passed over the pieces on the ground, and, standing on his hind legs, tried and tried to get that on the roof, which was just out of reach. The other hungry wolf gave his attention to the pieces on the ground and disposed of all three. Going over to the house, he sniffed for a moment and then sprang upon the roof, ate the fourth piece and stretched out for repose."—New York

HELPED BY HUMIDITY.

Many Materials and Products Which Require Moist Air.

There are many materials, operations and products which require special atmospheric conditions for advantages or profitable maintenance. Principal among such operations is the manufacture of textiles, perhaps the largest single industry carried on in factories. In the favored climate of the Lancashire district of England the natural climate affords working conditions equaled in America only on occasional days in certain localities.
Even in England, however, there are many days in which the atmosphere is too dry for the best work.

Since textile fibers are increased in strength and elasticity by high humidity and moderately high temperature, breakages are less frequent under proper conditions, and the output is increased. But even before the fiber reaches the manufacturing plant atmospheric humidity plays an important part. Cotton loses weight as it dries out, but, more than that, the fibers become brittle and appear shorter and of lower grade than when slightly moistened.

Leather, feathers and many other porous substances lose a considerable percentage of weight in drying out, so that the maintenance of average and uniform humidity in the storage rooms
has a direct advantage to the owner
in maintaining the value of his goods
as they lie in the warehouse. Cigars and tobacco lose flavor in dry air and regain it to some extent, after loss,
by storage in proper humidified rooms.
Wooden furniture and musical instruments are sometimes cracked or the finish injured by the dry air of steam-heated rooms. All these and other similar goods are advantageously worked or stored in rooms in which the atmospheric humidity is artificially controlled and kept at the most desirable point.—Engineering.

A PIG'S SQUEAL.

It Played a Momentous Part in American History.

The war between this country and England in 1812 was caused by one vote, and, stranger still, the small margin came from a pig getting its head stuck in a rail fence. It was a Rhode Island fence at that, but built much like a Virginia worm fence.

They were having an election of members of the legislature in Rhode Island. One Federalist put off going to the election and left himself just time enough to get there before the polls closed. Just as he got on his horse and started for town he heard a pig squeal. He looked around and saw that the pig had its head jammed into that old rail fence, and anybody who knows anything about hogs
knows that the hogs would have eaten
that pig up if it hadn't been rescued.
The farmer stopped long enough to liberate the pig, and when he got to the polls they were closed. He was too late.

The result was that a Democratic member of the legislature was elected from that district by one vote, and he would not have been elected if that Federalist had got there on time. In the legislature a Democratic United States senator was elected by one vote,
and that Democratic legislator who had been elected by one vote, voted for him.

In the United States senate they voted for the war of 1812 by one vote,
and that Rhode Island Democratic senator who had been elected because that pig was caught in the fence voted for the war of 1812.—Popular Magazine.

Not a Waxwork.

The opening of the courts in an assize town in England is always a great day for the residents. The procession to the church, where the judge says
his prayers and listens to a homily, the march to the court, with the attendant javelin men and the braying of trumpets—the men in wigs and gowns—all the rustic mind with the sense of awe and the majesty of justice. It is related in Mr. Thomas Edward Crisp's book, "Reminiscences of a K. C.," that a farmer once took his son into the crown court.

On the bench was the Baron Cleasby, gorgeous in scarlet and ermine, statuesque and motionless. The yokel gazed with open mouth at the resplendent figure on the raised dais. Suddenly the baron moved his hand from right to left and left to right.

"Why, feyther," said the boy, "it's alive!"

A Friend in Need.

Algie—I say, Fred, you're—aw—a friend of mine, aren't you?

Fred—Sure.

Algie—Then be a good fellow and—aw—help me out. I'd like to have that pretty cousin of yours learn all about my—aw—good points, doncher know.

Fred—I am helping you, old chap. I argued with her for two hours yesterday trying to convince her that you weren't as big a fool as you look.—

A Memorable Date.

"What member of the class can mention one memorable date in Roman history?" the teacher asked.
"Antony's with Cleopatra," ventured
one of the boys.—Everybody's.

What is civilization? I answer, the power of good women.—Emerson.

Where Ignorance is Bliss.

in his eight or twelve hours a day in physical effort, actual muscular work, having time to bother about his insides; most of them are unaware of the fact that they have anything
beneath their skins besides a heart and a stomach.

to the great size of this original cof-
